

Anyway

People are often unreasonable, illogical and self centered;
Forgive them anyway.

If you are kind, people may accuse you of selfish, ulterior motives;

Be kind anyway.

If you are successful, you will win some false friends and
some true enemies;

Succeed anyway.

If you are honest and frank, people may cheat you;

Be honest and frank anyway.

What you spend years building, someone could destroy overnight;

Build anyway.

If you find serenity and happiness, they may be jealous;

Be happy anyway.

The good you do today, people will often forget tomorrow;

Do good anyway.

Give the world the best you have, and it may never be enough;

Give the world the best you've got anyway.

You see, in the final analysis, it is between you and your God;

It was never between you and them anyway.

Obituary

Lillie Mae Sugar was born to Ceola Anderson and John Henry Solomon on November 18, 1938, in Dawson, Georgia. At a young age, she and her family relocated to Jacksonville, Florida, where she was educated in the Duval County Public School system.

At an early age, Lillie Mae (affectionately known) heard the word of God preached over the radio by Bishop S.C. Johnson, who was the pastor and general overseer of The Church of the Lord Jesus Christ of the Apostolic Faith. She made her way to the Gator Bowl to hear him speak, and was so moved by the Spirit of God that she was baptized that day. She continued to be a faithful member and willing worker until her health failed.

Lillie Mae met a young man named Willie Sugar on February 3, 1956. The couple took a short trip to Kingsland, Georgia, to get married. From this union 10 children were born. She was a wonderful daughter, wife, mother and grandmother.

Lillie Mae was a seamstress and started her own business, Lingerie by Lillie. She was a wonderful cook. She also loved to read, which later inspired her to join a memoirs writing class. She loved this class and wrote many stories.

She was preceded in death by her parents, John and Ceola Solomon; her husband, Willie Sugar, Sr.; and her daughters, LaNae' Sugar and Brenda Sugar.

Congregational Song

It’s good to be here,
Yes, it’s good to be here;
It’s good for my soul to be here.
It’s good to be here,
Yes, it’s good to be here;
It’s good for my soul to be here.

I’m glad to be here,
Yes, I’m glad to be here;
I’m glad for my soul to be here.
I’m glad to be here,
Yes, I’m glad to be here;
I’m glad for my soul to be here.
